Summary

• Active Learner

I have passion to pursue continuous learning and improvement, with a positive mindset. I am energised by learning and gaining new information. I create goals to challenge myself, complete the work at hand and gain more learning and rewarding experiences.

• Adapting to Change

I am comfortable with adapting to shifting priorities and changes at work, and I have a high level of tolerance for ambiguity. I enjoy variety and embrace new methods, processes, and structures that have potential for improving my work.

• Collaboration and Teamwork

I am comfortable creating and maintaining working relationships across organizational boundaries to better achieve the company's goals. I recognise the connection between people and leverage my own professional networks in a mutually beneficial way.

• Communication

I communicate my ideas clearly, effectively, and professionally to others. I enjoy presentations and group discussions and can easily apply my communication style to different stakeholders.
